The Department of Communication at the University of Missouri invites applications to fill an Instructor position beginning August 2019.

Position will teach undergraduate communication courses and will contribute to department service. Primary teaching assignment will be public speaking (COMM 1200). Teaching load is four courses per semester (4/4).

We are committed to ethnic, racial, and gender diversity in our faculty and strongly encourage applications from members of groups underrepresented in Communication.

We encourage applications from individuals who demonstrate a commitment to increasing diversity and access to higher education for groups underrepresented in Communication and those who can help serve our diverse student population.

We offer a competitive salary, a strong population of engaged undergraduate students, a highly interactive faculty, and a departmental home (Switzler Hall) that is located directly on the quad across from Mizzou’s historic columns.

Candidates should have completed an M.A. in Communication or a related field by August 15, 2019. A Ph.D. in Communication or a related field is preferred.

To Apply

The following documents/materials are required for the application to be complete:

- cover letter, including a description of teaching experience and effectiveness
- CV
- a diversity statement addressing contributions to diversity through teaching and service
- names and contact information of three references willing to write a letter if solicited

Please apply on line at:  http://hrs.missouri.edu/find-a-job/academic (Job ID: 30596)

Use the online application and be prepared to upload your cover letter, CV, diversity statement, and list of references (names and contact information for three references should be attached in the “attachments” section of the application section).

Applicants may contact the Chair of the Search Committee, Dr. Brian Houston (houstonjb@missouri.edu), with any questions about the job duties. Contact Human Resource Services (muhrs@missouri.edu) for any questions about the application process.

Additional Information

Considered one of the nation’s top-tier institutions, the University of Missouri (MU) has a reputation for excellence in teaching and research and is the flagship campus of the four-campus University of Missouri System. It is one of only 34 public universities to be selected for membership in the Association of American Universities. MU offers more than 280 degree programs and is designated as comprehensive doctoral with medical/veterinary by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.
The Department of Communication (communication.missouri.edu) at the University of Missouri has a long history of leadership in the field of communication. We are the 5th highest-ranked communication program in the United States, according to Academic Analytics Scholarly Research Index (2017). We offer B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. communication degrees. Our faculty are engaged in research, excellent teaching, and community outreach. The department is home to the Disaster and Community Crisis Center (dcc.missouri.edu), the Institute of Family Diversity and Communication (ifdc.missouri.edu), the Media and Diversity Center (mdc.missouri.edu), and the Political Communication Institute (pci.missouri.edu).

Columbia, MO, is ranked as one of the “10 Best College Towns in America” to live and work. Located two hours from both Kansas City and St. Louis, Columbia is home to the University of Missouri as well as two private colleges and local, county, and regional medical centers. Columbia has excellent schools, health care, recreational facilities, arts, and cultural opportunities.

The University of Missouri is fully committed to achieving the goal of a diverse and inclusive academic community of faculty, staff and students. We seek individuals who are likewise committed to this goal and our core campus values of respect, responsibility, discovery and excellence.

The University of Missouri is an Equal Opportunity/Access/Affirmative Action/Pro Disabled & Veteran Employer.